hot and sunny

My family and I drove to a beach to play in the sand.

Once we arrived at the beach, my brother and I were excited that we ran full speed ahead just to play in the sand and make a huge sandcastle.

When we finished playing in the sand, lunch was ready. So we sprinted to where the lunch was and ate very quickly so we could play again.

Once we finished playing with the sand again for hours and hours and hours, we were super tired and we went home.
