

A Day at Funland

Last week, Terry with a dog got off the Fun Bus at Funland.

First, Terry met his friend at the park. They also brought a dog with them. Terry's dog was excited, so it danced. His friend said, "Wow! Your dog is amazing!" They walked the dog together. They felt happy but tired.

Next, Terry went to a restaurant. He saw a clown. The clown brought some balloons. He performed a magic show in front of Terry. The clown said, "I will give a present to the one who performs the show with me." He chose Terry to go up to the stage. They performed a magic show together. The clown gave Terry a bike. He was over the moon.

Then, Terry met a biker with a bike on the road. Terry brought the bike and went cycling. Suddenly, he tripped over and fell down. He cried and the biker comforted him. He felt low.

At the end of the day, Terry took the Fun Bus and went home. He felt excited because he got a new bike.
