

A Day at Funland

4E (10) Hakim Hina

Last Sunday, I went to Funland.

First, I saw a police officer on the road.

The police officer brought a basket with him. I asked, "What is inside the basket?" The police officer said, "A rooster." He opened the basket. A rooster came out. I was surprised.

Next, I saw a salesman on the street.

He was selling peacocks. He said,

"You can look around my shop." I said, "No, thank you." I was exhausted.

After that, I saw a sheep in the farm. The sheep was holding a balloon and it was dancing. I was shocked. I said, "What a weird sheep."

The sheep immediately stopped.

Finally, I arrived Funland. I was very confused today because I had never seen that before.
