My Dream Job

I want to be a singer because I love singing and do it all the time. Songs can heal our hearts; they are not just music but also an art form.

Being a singer requires confidence on stage and intensive training. Knowing the lyrics by heart is essential to earn applause and cheers from the audience. I am good at singing and started learning when I was young. I absolutely love it!

When performing, I need to wear gorgeous dresses and fashionable clothes, and there may be stage effects or costume changes. Why do I want to be a singer? I love music and singing because it makes people feel happy and deeply moves them. I will work in a music group, a dance or singing studio, or even perform on the streets. Singers can perform almost anywhere.

I hope to become a singer or pursue an inspiring career in music when I grow up. My dream is to work hard during my childhood to achieve my goals.
